

Nashville Business Journal 100 named Correct Care Solutions the top fastest-growing company of 2016!

Swift ascent: Behind our fast growth

The Nashville Business Journal 100 is an annual ranking of the fastest growing companies with headquarters in Music City USA. This year, CCS had the distinct honor of ranking first overall based on its revenue growth in the past three years. You will be proud to know, considering the significant role each of you plays everyday, that CCS has grown by 234.1% and we are on track to continue this trend into 2017. Thanks to each and every one of you who makes this a great place to work!

September - A Look At Suicide Prevention Month

By Dawn Ducote, Director Continuous Quality Improvement

Did you know that suicide is the leading cause of death in jails and the fourth leading cause of death in prisons in the U.S? Did you know that the suicide rate is over 3.5 times greater in jails than in the general public? Did you know that most people who die by suicide communicate their intent to someone, either verbally or nonverbally?

Experts also know that suicidal crises tend to be brief. When suicidal behaviors are detected early, lives can be saved. CCS is committed to the identification, assessment and treatment of suicidal behaviors. Together we can reduce the number of lives shaken by a needless and tragic death.

CCS asked our employees to send in stories of “Suicide Prevention Champions”. We received many stories of employees who go above and beyond for our patients in the area for suicide prevention. While we are not able to recognize each and every one individually, we did select a few specific stories about some employees who we would like to share (please see page 12). ■

Embrace All That You Are!

By Marta Prado, President Correct Care Recovery Solutions

As I celebrate my 22nd month at CCS, I want to reflect on some of the nuances that I celebrate today, as my breadth of knowledge in this new space of healthcare has surpassed all my expectations. I have been involved in the delivery of care for more than 35 years, playing a hands-on role as a provider of clinical services, an administrator, manager, and leader. Throughout my career, when people asked about my profession, if I said that I was involved in Emergency Medicine, the response was “how fun” or if I said I was involved in inmate healthcare, the response was “interesting”. But over the last few months, when I say I’m involved in the Mental Health field, the response has been altogether different — almost everyone I speak with immediately confides that they have a brother, a sister, a child, a mom, or someone in the family that suffers some type of mental illness. This response permeates all professional and social occupations: public officials, law enforcement, doctors, teachers, entertainers, journalists, grocery store clerks and almost anyone with whom I communicate. Ultimately, no one is immune to the disease.

One in five U.S. adults experiences some form of mental illness each year. Mental illness annually costs the United States $193 billion in lost earnings while more than 50% of adults and youth with mental health conditions have received no treatment in the past year. Furthermore, most individuals affected by mental illness experience social stigma that includes prejudice, exclusion, and discrimination. Eradicating the stigma and social distancing of people with mental illness must be a top public health priority in order to improve worldwide mental health and reduce economic burden.

Correct Care Solutions is proud to announce its partnership with National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), as a stigmafree company. NAMI’s stigmafree initiative helps organizations promote and cultivate a company culture of caring and enhanced engagement around mental health. CCS has made the commitment to focus on learning more about mental illness while also working to promote understanding and support for individuals impacted by mental health conditions. By participating in NAMI’s stigmafree partnership, CCS will promote a supportive workplace culture by helping staff recognize stigma and its impact, while simultaneously learning ways to embrace a culture of overall well-being and physical health.

The primary focus of the #IAmStigmaFree campaign is to educate the public to see people as more than their diagnoses and to help take the mark of stigma away from what are very common disorders. Those interested in getting involved can take the Stigma Free Pledge and tell their own mental health stories freely and without shame in hopes of raising awareness and inspiring others to do the same. In support of campaign, the Deerfield Beach Regional Office and South Florida State Hospital staff will participate in the NAMIWalks Broward event on November 12, 2016, as the Walking Warriors Team. The NAMIWalks is a family and community event to raise awareness, educate people about mental illness, celebrate recovery and highlight the Stigma Free initiative. I encourage you to join the Walking Warriors to support this cause, make a donation which will make a difference in the lives of the 43.8 million adults who experience mental illness in a given year, or participate in a NAMIWalks in your Community. The following link can be used to register or donate: <http://namiwalks.org/index.cfm?fuseaction=donorDrive.team&teamID=10557>.

As a provider of these vital services, we must embrace a culture of openness and increased awareness to counteract negative stereotypes. Our staff, especially those working on the front lines, must have access to education and support to help manage bias so as to not interfere with clinical care. We must encourage a Stigma Free society where vulnerable individuals can feel free to speak up, seek services and bear no shame in accepting their diagnosis, their treatment, and all that is available to them on the road to recovery. No one should ever apologize for seeking help during times of profound sadness. As a company that promotes understanding and support to individual affected by mental illness, we can foster a stigma free environment which provides hope for recovery and meaningful engagement in the community. As a result, these conditions will no longer be seen as a life sentence for our patients and their family members or, for that matter, our own loved ones. ■

CCS Salutes Our Veterans: Stan Wofford

Current Position at CCS: Senior Vice President, Local Detention Division

Previous Branch of Service: Navy

When Stan Wofford was 17, he was into all kinds of trouble including being put into the Scared Straight program at Cummins AR DOC. During that time, he met his Scared Straight mentor, Lewis Wallace. Lewis forever impacted his life. After leaving the program, he joined the Navy where he remained active for 23 years. Stan spent 15 of those 23 years with Marine units, as a Hospital Corpsman which requires the same training as a Physician's Assistant

He left the Navy on a Friday and started with CCS on the following Monday as an HSA. After 2 years, he was promoted to a Regional Manager. He was then promoted to a Regional Vice President, Senior Vice President of the State Division in Private Prisons, and today is the Senior Vice President in the Local Detention Division.

While he was in the State Division, he oversaw the original prison where he was a Scared Straight participant. He went back there to speak with at-risk juveniles as well as his mentor, Lewis Wallace, who was still working with young people while serving a life sentence.

Stan shared his experience with the current Scared Straight participants, noting that their difficult situation today did not mean they were resigned to live that way in the future, and that his own struggles were a testament to how to turn things around for the better. Lewis later sent Stan a letter expressing how proud he was of Stan and he appreciated him coming because it allowed Lewis to see that he could still make a difference even though he is still in prison so many years later.

CCS would like to thank Stan Wofford for his service, for being a part of our company, and sharing his incredible story. ■

Dekalb County Jail received its ACA accreditation with "100% Compliance" on its standards. Fantastic news and a huge congratulation to all of our healthcare partners in Dekalb.

And as if 100% compliance was not enough, ACA auditors noted that the Dekalb County program was a stand-out when compared to the numerous facilities that they review! This was further support by patient interviews.

CCS is very proud to have a Team who strives for excellence every day. We did this TOGETHER. As the Auditor stated, "stay committed to the process and each other..." and we will continue to do great!

Congratulation to the entire team at Dekalb! ■

Did You Know

By Karen Galin, Ph.D., Chief Behavioral Health Officer

Did you know that directly talking about suicide helps overcome barriers caused by stigma? Did you know that social crises can be overcome through inspiring hope, promoting connections and collaboration and empowering individuals? Did you know that there is a national suicide prevention phone number and text line? Providing support and resources can save lives. ■

CCS POTLIGHT

Amanda Currier, RN, CQI Nurse at the Pima County Adult Detention Center in Tucson, Arizona was recently awarded the CQI Super Star award for her dedication to Patient Safety and Quality Improvement. Amanda recently went above and beyond the call of duty by visiting a patient at the hospital, when the hospital had not returned her inquiry calls for over 4 days. She found the patient in a less than ideal situation, advocated for the patient, and in doing so, uncovered policies at the hospital that treated our patients differently than other patients. This led to several meeting with hospital administration and a change of policy for the better. The CQI Team recognized Amanda's dedication, initiative, and her compassion for our patients. Amanda is a CQI Super Star! ■

“Are You OK?”

By Gregory Smith, Regional Behavioral Health Manager, Virginia and Maryland

Suicide prevention is a substantial challenge in the correctional environment. However, many credible theories suggest that there’s value in simply asking people how they are feeling. In fact, in Australia has a nationwide suicide prevention organization that is simply called “Are you ok?”

A significant theory by researcher and academic, Dr. Thomas Joiner, tries to answer the complex question of why suicide occurs. In his study, he identifies disconnection from others as a principal challenge for people at risk for suicide.

In our world of checking boxes through Intake Screenings, and suicidal checklists/assessments, as important as they are for gathering clinical information, they are not as important as taking that extra bit of time to connect with a patient who needs someone to listen. You might just be connecting with someone that has felt isolated for a long time and you might just be helping save a life in the process.

Remember, sometimes a simple “Are you Ok?” can make an important difference. ■

Two lives Saved in One Day — Mahoning County Justice Center

June 6, 2016 at approximately 1745 radio traffic advised a nonresponsive male on the minimum security housing unit pod “R”. Charge Nurse Kerstie Kenney RN, Angela Wallace LPN and Amy Yakopec LPN responded. On arrival to the unit, a male patient was found in his cell, unresponsive, pulseless and blue, with no spontaneous respirations. The AED was applied and did not register a shockable rhythm. Manual CPR was initiated with the help of Deputy Duzzny and Deputy Buente, the patient was not responding to treatment. At that time another inmate yelled out “he snorted something”. Medical staff immediately administered Narcan via the nasal route. The patient slowly developed spontaneous respirations as EMT’s were arriving on station. The EMT’s administered another dose of Narcan and transported the patient to the local hospital emergency room for additional evaluation and treatment.

June 6, 2016 at approximately 1805, while medical staff was busy notifying the facility’s physician and Health Services Administrator of the overdose, radio traffic again advised a nonresponsive male on the same housing unit. Again Nurse Kenney, Nurse Wallace and Nurse Yakopec responded. On arrival to the unit, a male patient was observed in his cell, in an unresponsive state. The patient again, was pulseless and lacked spontaneous respirations, medical staff immediately administered Narcan and began manual CPR, the patient began to develop some spontaneous respirations as EMT’s again arrived on station. The EMTs administered an additional dose of Narcan and transported the patient to the emergency room for additional evaluation and treatment.

After the second overdose, security determined there was an opiate type substance introduced to the housing unit. The Sheriff’s K-9’s were brought in and all staff were ordered to report to the facility. The medical staff and jail administrative staff developed an action plan as the housing units were being swept for drugs. The housing units were placed on double lock down, a nurse was stationed on “R” pod for 24 hours. Additional Narcan was acquired. EMT’s were advised to be on standby. The K-9s hit on a specific cell and a substance was tested in the forensics lab. It was later confirmed that the substance was fentanyl and two of the inmates had snorted the drug. The next day one of the patients admitted that he was told the substance was heroin – it was not. ■

Who is at Risk for Suicide—Know the Facts

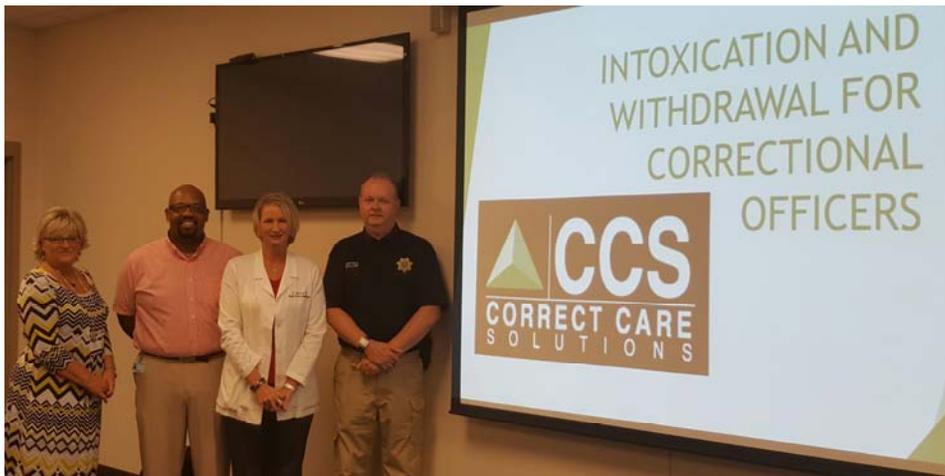

By Gregory Smith, Regional Behavioral Health Manager, Virginia and Maryland

Too often you will hear: Only people that have mental health conditions/disorders tend to be suicidal!

This is wrong!

Suicidal behavior indicates deep unhappiness, but not necessarily a mental health condition/disorder. Many of our patients living with mental health conditions/disorders in our facilities are not affected by suicidal behavior, and not all patients who take their own lives have a mental health condition/disorder.

This is a key takeaway for all of us in our assessments because we often assume patients with a mental health treatment history are at the greatest risk. So, in our assessments, let's always scan rigorously for suicidal behavior with ALL our patients - not just the patients who have been identified with mental health treatment histories. ■

2017 Annual Benefits Enrollment

Over the past couple of years, we've made thoughtful investments in our benefits program and asked you to think differently about your health and how you use health care services.

This past year, over 70% of our employees participated in a biometric screening. The "Know Your Numbers" campaign helped thousands of us learn more about our current health status and understand the steps each of us can take to improve our personal situations. We also introduced a comprehensive diabetes management program to provide medical supplies, at no cost, to employees and families who are trying to better manage their condition. Additionally, we offered online and telephonic resources to assist with emergency care, smoking cessation, weight management and stress management.

Strategic investments like these along with your efforts to improve your well-being are paying off. We're seeing a healthier, more engaged workforce which keeps our annual cost increases to a minimum. Like most companies across the country, we are not immune to increasing medical costs and dynamic government regulations that determine how we structure our benefit options and plan designs. In 2017, these two factors combined will raise costs an average of 6-7% for virtually everyone purchasing health insurance coverage in the U.S. We are excited to say, by working together, we are keeping our cost increases for health care coverage below the National Average at 4%, while offering the same three medical plan options (with no increase to copays or annual deductibles) and with enhancements to our vision and dental plans.

It's a strong result, and it reflects our collective focus on informed decision making and improved well-being. But, our work is not done. We must continue to share responsibility for making the most of our benefits program at CCS. For our part, we remain committed to providing valuable benefits, meaningful tools and plenty of opportunities to achieve your health goals.

We're working together to build a culture of total health at CCS. Our goal is to help you and your family be your best, physically, financially and emotionally, both at work and at home.

What does this mean for you?

- Continued access to a comprehensive health and wellness plan aligned with your goals.
- CCS is continuing to pay up to 70% of all of the health & welfare costs.
- Less than 4% increase in bi-weekly rate premiums.
- Consolidation of bi-weekly rates from legacy companies which will lower rates for some.
- No additional out-of-pocket expenses for co-pays and deductibles.
- Dental coverage with lower co-pays and higher co-insurance.
- Earn additional dollars through CCS' new wellness initiative – MedEncentive!
- New voluntary benefit options for part-time employees.

The Annual Enrollment period is October 24th – November 18th, 2016. Please be on the lookout for additional communications about enrolling online. It will be important to log-in and confirm your elections for 2017. We encourage you to choose your benefits wisely so you can make the most of your health care dollars and improve your well-being in 2017.

If you need assistance before, during or after Annual Enrollment, call the CCS Benefits Center at 844-378-0630 (Weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., EST).

“Suicide Prevention Champions”

Rosalinda Pamintuan – Las Vegas City Jail: Rose is always attentive to those that express any sign of suicide. She will go above and beyond to communicate with these individuals that suffer from mental illnesses. Rose will always interview an inmate and no matter the situation, she will treat them with respect and compassion. I've seen inmates that will not respond or speak to any other employee but Rose. Her charisma and soft approach is what gets her the positive feedback from the inmates. I believe her dedication and communication skills, have prevented some of these inmates from hurting themselves.

Tangela Cox – Randall L. Williams Unit : While working in her assigned duties as Pill Room Nurse, Nurse Cox takes the time-out to counsel inmates on the importance of maintaining a positive attitude even though they may feel that their circumstances are impossible to cope with or accept. Nurse Cox maintains a professional, but genuinely caring relationship with each patient, and uses every available opportunity to remind and encourage them that their wellbeing matters. Nurse Cox helps them understand that they can overcome any circumstance by keeping a positive outlook on the future and believing in themselves.

The El Paso Mental Health Team is : Stephanie Gangemi, Brandon Hutchinson, Christina Mejia, Tanya Belknap, Nichole Canha, Stacia Morrow, Alyse Munoz, Melissa Carlisle, Travis Lelan, Laura Hoder, Kehly Stone and Jessica Cavinta : The team is a lively, close-knit and very intelligent group with team members consistently working to enhance their educational licensure, as well as working to educate those around them about suicide prevention. On Fridays, the entire team wears animal print for “Animal Print Fridays” which brings joy and energy to the patients, security staff and medical unit. I have seen my team do everything from: completing a suicide intake sitting on the floor; coloring/assisting with a puzzle; completing intakes in Tagalog,, and singing happy birthday to patients in the suicide ward. They treat our most at-risk patients with dignity and humanity which can often be overlooked in correctional healthcare environment.

Correct Care Solutions was proud to make Friday, October 21st “Pink-Out” day to participate in National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Breast cancer is the second most common kind of cancer in women. About 1 in 8 women born today in the United States will get breast cancer at some point.

The good news is that many women can survive breast cancer if it’s found and treated early. Your doctor can help you decide when and how often to get mammograms.

National Breast Cancer Awareness Month is a chance to raise awareness about the importance of early detection of breast cancer. Make a difference! Spread the word about mammograms and encourage communities, organizations, families, and individuals to get involved.

Here are just some of our sites and how they participated in "Pink Out" Day!
